The Hiring Manager

Application for Python Developer / Full-Stack Developer Position

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my enthusiastic interest in the Python Developer position at your company. As a dedicated BCA student at Uttaranchal University and a practicing Solution Architect, I have spent the last year bridging the gap between academic theory and high-performance, real-world applications.

My technical journey is defined by "learning by doing." Most recently, I engineered a Full-Stack Twitter Clone using Django and Python. While many build basic clones, I challenged myself to architect a custom real-time chat system within the app, allowing seamless direct messaging between users. This project required me to master full CRUD functionality, secure user authentication, and complex database relationships using MySQL and SQLite.

Beyond my technical projects, my professional background has developed my "soft skills" into a competitive advantage:

- Analytical Problem Solving: As a Quality Manager at mPokket, I ensured 100% compliance with service procedures and translated complex operational issues into actionable reports.
- Operational Leadership: My tenure at Apollo Pharmacy taught me to manage high-volume inventory systems and coordinate team efforts in high-pressure environments.
- Industry Recognition: I have completed professional simulations in GenAI Powered Data Analytics and hold certifications in Web Development from Launched Global and Cabstone.

I am a "Creative Problem Solver" who thrives on turning complex backend logic into efficient, scalable solutions. I am eager to bring my expertise in FastAPI, Django, and REST APIs to your engineering team.

I have attached my resume for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my proactive approach to development can benefit your company.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Rik Singha
